BACHELOR'S HOPE, CLE
St. Mary's County
Maryland

Location: Leonardtown vicinity

Owner:

Date of erection: Early 18th Century

Present condition: Fair (Being remodeled)

Builder:

Description:

Two-story, brick, Flemish bond, formal composition with wings. Wings are covered with hip roof and center portion with jerkinhead roof. There is an open loggia on the east facade. From this loggia rises the only stair to the second floor. Most of the original panelling is still in place except that in the Hunting Room where the the mantels and ouboard doors have diaspeared.

Dr. Thomas Gerrard had Basford Manor, 1500 acres, surveyed for him in 1650. He later sold it to Governor Thomas Notley, who in 1678 laid off 300 acres of the Manor as the "Manor Lodge", and named it "Bachelor's Hope", and placed it in the poession of Colonel William Rozer. Rozer was the husband of Ann Sewall, stepdaughter of Lord Baltimore.
